George Boone born 1666, son George born 1690 England, son Josiah born Pa. 1726-7, died Glenn Creek 1814. Five miles south of Frankfort, Ky. married Hannah 1750. They signed a deed for their interest in their father's estate, Josiah, Sr., which is on record at Versailles, Ky. "Boone Bulletin" date of deed, July 29, 1819.

A Miss Johnson, a descendant from same family as Andrew Johnson, married Mr. Joyce, daughter (Sarah Joyce), married (James) Nevil, their daughter Joyce Nevil married Jeremiah Boone, their daughter Charlotte gave me (1881), 50 years ago, the Joyce-Nevil family history.

James Nevil in 1779 went to Lincoln County, Ky. Found British and Indians on the war path and the settlers preparing for their first invasion into Ohio. They burned old Chillicothe, and captured a number of horses. Killed two chiefs and a few other Indians. Then Col. Bowman returned to Harrodsburg, Ky. The Indians came back again.

James Nevil born Prince William County, Va., 1741, Revolutionary war, Col. Edmonds, Capt. Martin Pickett, Bureau of Pensions, Etc.

When James Nevil and family arrived at the little place Asaps, (afterward changed to Stanford), they began to see familiar names: Col. Daniel Boone, the surveyor, Capt. Sam Kirkham on the Grand Jury, the name of Abraham Lincoln on the court record. Jeremiah Boone making visits to the Nevil home often. There was Capt. George Mayfield and Lieut. Isaac Mayfield with the troops. I served on the Grand Jury.

After war of 1812 Reuben married Charlotte Boone, my Grandmother, who related the above Joyce-Nevil family history to me 1881. She also said her father was a second cousin of Daniel Boone. She was about 78 years old, and further said the above was told her when she was a child.

James Nevil and wife, and Jeremiah and family lived neighbors on Six River 1789-96. James Nevil and Sarah his wife made a court deed at Harrodsburg, Ky., for land, early day. James Nevil, b. THE BOONE, MAYFIELD, SHORT AND TATE BRIEF FAMILY HISTORY.

By R. N. MAYFIELD.

The name Bohun is of Norman origin. The first family from Normandy settled in Lincolnshire at an early date, and afterward some of the name settled in Devonshire, England. It is from this latter family that the American Boones are directly descended. The Bohun coat of arms was used before the fourteenth century, probably granted by a Norman-English king. It is not until the middle of the sixteenth century that we find the name Bohun or Boone spelled both ways in the same documents.

Boone.

It is shown by the records that one Solomon Boon, rank not stated, served in Captain John Beatty's Company, 5th Battalion of Pennsylvania troops, Revolutionary War. His name appears only in Major Benzet's "Account Book of Monies Advanced Sundry Men of the Late 5 Regt. Pa. on Account of Pay as Prisoners." This book contains the following statement:

"From the information of Mr. Kennedy late Adj. of the 5th Regt. it appears that the * * * men of said Regt. received of Maj. Samuel Benezet by order of Genl. Gates in 1777 (early) the several sums of money as opposite to their names and expressed in the Outer Column being on account of their pay as Prisoners, taken at Fort Washington in 1776—the pay of each man commences the first day of Sept., 1776, and ends with those who re-enlisted the 15th Feb., 1777, at which time the Regt. was new Modeled and commenced pay accordingly." The entry opposite the name of Solomon Boone shows that he received "12 20."

No further information relative to the subject of your inquiry has been found of record.

JOHN TWEEDALE,

Daniel, son of Squire Boone, was born at Bristol, Pa., about 1732-33-35, exact date not known. After an eventful career in Kentucky and the West, he died in Missouri Sept. 26, 1820; buried at Frankfort, Ky.

I have failed after careful search to find the father of Jeremiah Boone, born in Pennsylvania, Feb. 29, 1760; died June 10, 1832. Am told that his father's name was Solomon, but I cannot verify the same. About 1785 Jeremiah Boone went west to Kentucky. On the old Boone farm, bought by Jeremiah, July 1, 1800, from G. Stepp, on Pitman Creek five miles aortheast of Somerset and two and one-half east of Science Hill, stands a large pear tree seventy feet high planted by Jeremiah Boone while residing there a hundred years ago. Jeremiah Boone married Joyce Nevel, who was born in Virginia and came to Kentucky with her parents when she was eleven years old; married in Lincoln Co., Ky.; died in Lawrence Co., Ind., June 26, 1861, aged 93 yr. mo. 12 days. Noah Boone was born in Pulaski Co., Ky., Feb. 20, 1802. Came to Orange Co., Ind., in autumn of 1816. Feb., 1817, he and Isaac Wagoner came to Lawrence Co., Ind. Later his father Jeremiah and family came; located (June 3, 1817) public lands, West half of Sec. Seven, Tp. Five North, Range Two West, and paid for same March 7, 1820, and received a patent from Pres. James Monroe. Here he and his son Noah lived and died (1832; Noah 1862). Noah's ch. Clementine, m. MAYFIELD.

The Mayfields were of English descent. The first family from England came to Virginia at an early date, probably Owin Mayfield, Mayor of Cambridge, Eng., 1672, and George, Esq., a freeholder in Cambridge, March 29, 1722. Tradition has it that all Mayfields in America came from one family of five sons born in Virginia, their descendants radiating to the different parts of the United States. Many Mayfields served in the Revolutionary War from Virginia.

It is shown by the records that one John Mayfield and one Henry Mayfield were enlisted for the 1st Virginia Regiment,

IN EXCHANGE
L. S. Hist. Soc.
JAN 16 1908

Revolutionary War, and that a Sergeant, James Bedford, received in February, 1780, twenty dollars for each enlistment. No further information relative to these soldiers has been found of record.

The records also show that one Reuben Mayfield served as a private in Captain Samuel Tate's Company, 7th (Taul's) Regiment of Mounted Kentucky Volunteers, war of 1812. His name appears on the rolls of that organization with remarks: "Commencement of service, Aug. 23, 1813; expiration of service, Nov. 14, 1813; time paid for, 2 mos., 23 days."

By authority of the Secretary of War:

JOHN TWEEDALE,
Acting Chief, Record and Pension Office.

I am of the opinion that John Mayfield was the father of John, b. 1768, as the name "John" seems to run through the family of each generation down to the present time. John Mayfield and his wife Mary Wolf removed from Virginia to Kentucky, 1795, stopping at Knoxville, Tenn., for a month or so. He owned many slaves at the time of his death, caused by a tree falling on him. His brother William lived on an adjoining farm for a time, then moved to Tennessee with John's wife's father, Mr. Wolf.

Their son Reuben served in the War of 1812, from Somerset, Ky., through Indiana, Michigan and Canada. Married Charlotte Boone Oct. 27, 1814, in Pulaski Co., Ky., and at once moved to his mother's homestead two miles east of Pulaski, Ky., where he lived for three years before moving to Indiana. He first came to Lawrence Co., Ind., 1817. Aug. 20, 1825, bought land in Sec. 29, of William Woodruff; sold it to Samuel H. Mitchell March 14, 1836. On Jan. 5, 1837, Oct. 8, 1851, Dec. 30, 1844, he entered U. S. lands in Secs. 8 and 7, Tp. 5 N. R. 2 W. near to his father-in-law, Jeremiah Boone, who lived on Sec. 7. Went to Missouri 1857. Died at Oxford, Worth Co., Mo., Nov. 22, 1861. His widow at age of 77 years was pensioned from Page Co., Hollyville, Ia. (The writer was born on west bank of Indian Creek opposite the Nevel Mayfield place. Above entry.)

Their son, Alexander Campbell, named after the distinguished Disciples minister, born at Linton, Greene Co., Ind., May 6, 1831. Served in Morgan's raid under Capt. Samuel W. Short and Platt Stannard. Married Winnie Short Jan. 12, 1854, at Springville, Ind. The National Encyclopedia of American Biography, Vol. XI., reads: "Reuben Newton Mayfield, physician, born near Bedford, Ind., June 13, 1859; son of Alexander Campbell and Winney (Short) Mayfield. His grandfather, Milton Short, was a Disciples Christian preacher, and at one time the owner of a large number of slaves, whom he voluntarily freed before the Civil War. His paternal grandmother was a cousin of Daniel Boone, the Kentucky pioneer. Through his mother he is a descendant of Col. Robert Tate, of Ky., a distinguished citizen of Kentucky. In the War of 1812 his paternal grandfather, Reuben Mayfield, a Virginian by birth, participated. Ancestors on both sides served in Revolutionary War. At the age of fourteen he was graduated at the high school of Springville, and immediately began to teach in the school. After following this calling for a few years, he studied medicine, first at the Kentucky School of Medicine and afterwards at the Long Island Hospital College, New York, being graduated there in 1880, and subsequently at Rush College, Chicago, Ill. He also pursued several special courses in medicine at other institutions. On completing his studies he accepted a position as lecturer on pathology and clinical medicine at the University of Colorado. While holding this position he also established himself as a practicing physician and a specialist in throat, lung and stomach troubles. He was Major and Surgeon for many years in 1st Colorado Regiment and brigade Surgeon in the campaign of Cripple Creek in 1894 and that of Leadville in 1896. He also served during a part of his residence in Colorado as president of the board of medical examiners of the state. For about five years he was surgeon of the Union Pacific Railway system. In 1897 Dr. Mayfield removed to New York City, and there continued to practice in his special subjects. He has had unusual success in the treatment of what are commonly called incurable diseases, and has published in pamphlet form the results of his investigations along original lines. Besides the societies already mentioned, which he served as officer, Dr. Mayfield is enrolled as a member of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, and of the New York Medico-Legal Society; he was also a member of the Colorado State Medical Society. He is an official member of several secret orders. Dr. Mayfield was married in Denver, Col., Feb. 14, 1889, to Ada E., daughter of John A. Thomas, of Chicago, who is of English ancestry and has one son, Roy T. Mayfield."

The following Mayfields are living in the different parts of the United States: Edward H. and James Clifford, Richmond, Va. Wm. S. and son John C., Nashville, Tenn. W. D., banker, and son John D., Waco, Texas. S. G. and W. D., attorney, Columbia, S. C. Judge Pierce, Cleveland, Tenn. Allison, Ry. Com., Austin, Texas; and General Mayfield's family, San Antonio, Texas.

TATES.

The Tates were of Scotch-Irish descent, and came to this country before the Revolutionary War, as many served in that war from Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 3, 1901.

DR. R. N. MAYFIELD,
 New York City.

Dear Sir:—I find the following names of Tate in the Revolution: Jesse and James Tate, Continental line; Capt. M. Tate of militia.

Yours truly,

W. G. STANARD,
 Virginia Historical Society.

And John and Robert Tate from Washington records War Department. Samuel (Irish) enlisted Sept. 4, 1755. Henry and Robert took oath of allegiance in Henry Co., Va.

John Tate married Mary Bracken, who was of German descent; was three times sheriff of Russell Co., Va., and a Colonel and Whig in time of Washington. On H. John Tate's farm at Zumbeg, near Lebanon, Russell Co., Va., we find a moss-covered slab that reads: "Col. John Tate, died Dec. 15, 1828, aged 85 yrs.; and Mary Tate, his wife, died March 13, 1817, aged 75 years."

Robert Tate, their son, was born in Russell Co., Va., July 31, 1768, where his parents remained until their death. He married Winnie Atkinson, who was born in South Carolina, Aug., 1766, and was a descendant of the French Huguenots. Soon after their marriage they, with brother Samuel, removed to Pulaski Co., Ky. (1806), and lived and died on a farm one half mile west of Tateville, on C. S. Ry., ten miles south of Somerset. The old house, with wooden latches and string, still stands on the old farm, where live John and Reuben Shaddown, grandsons of Mattie Buster, built by Robert and Samuel, who lived next farm south. Two miles south of this place is the "Milt Short" bend of the Cumberland River, where the grandfather of the writer lived when in Kentucky. Robert and Samuel buried at Tateville Cemetery.

Robert Tate was a slave-owner, but would never punish any of his negroes himself; he always sent for his brother Samuel to do all the punishment. He was a great Methodist before the time of Alexander Campbell, when they became Disciples of Christ. He was a very religious man, always wearing fancy deerskin clothing and hunting shirt at the religious meetings. His brother Samuel after the War of 1812 was made a major, and served for twenty years in the County Courts of Pulaski Co. Samuel's children were: William O.; John; Samuel Bracken; Robert M. and Bank G. Tate, and three daughters, Cecil Ceveva.

Isaac Tate, brother of Robert, about the year 1833 left Virginia for Kentucky, then located in Missouri. All other children: His sister married, 1758, John Callaway in Virginia. John, son of Maj. Samuel, was a Baptist minister until converted by Alexander Campbell. Has two distinguished sons: Samuel, b. Dec. 19, 1825, and Judge S. H. Tate, b. Dec. 5, 1828, still living at Somerset. Samuel married Minerva Martin, 1846; ten children, all living: John S., 53 yrs.; Geo. W., 51 yrs.; Robert M., 49 yrs.; W. S., 36 yrs.; grandson Asar Tate, Somerset. Judge Tate's son Samuel O., member of Kentucky Legislature.

The Tates were a healthy family; none was ever known to have died of consumption; and usually held some office in their county, especially sheriff.

Robert's daughter Mary Tate, b. Dec. 5, 1811; d. Dec. 13, 1864; cem. 1 mile south Springville; m. Milton Short, Jan. 8, 1829, in Pulaski Co., Ky., where they resided until 1836, when they moved to Indiana. It was here that they freed their slaves they had inherited from the Robert Tate estate.

John Tate and Mary Bracken's children:—

Robert Tate, b. July 31, 1768; d. Aug. 3, 1844; married Winnie Atkinson, b. Aug., 1766, d. April 13, 1856.

Col. John Tate Sr. Moved into this section for the first time in Nov. 1772. He with his family settled on Moccasin Creek. But 5 months later, the whole valley became totally vacated for fear of Indians. This was four years before the Revolutionary War, and 14 years before Russell County was formed from Augusta County. After County was formed May 9, 1786, he took an active part in county affairs for several years. First Constable in Capt. Dorton's and Capt. Frazier's companies of the militia in Russell County.

On the 2nd day of the court it was ordered, he be recommended to his Excellency, Patrick Henry, Governor of Virginia, as fit and proper for the place of Lieutenant in the militia. It followed that Col. John Tate produced a Commission from his Excellency, Patrick Henry, bearing date of July 5, 1786, appointing him Lieutenant in the Militia.

The next year he was Captain of the Upper Company of Militia on the Moccasin a year or so. Later he became one of the County Commissioners (Judge) being the County Court presided over by four Commissioners. The same as a Judge. From this time until his death his name is mentioned on almost every page of the Court records. Died December 15, 1828, aged 85 years. Grave on H. John Tate's farm of my father.- Signed Leland B. Tate, Asst. Cashier Bank of Russell County, Lebanon, Va. (descendant Joseph).

Capt. Joist Hite and Maria his Huguenot wife, came to American, 1710, in his own ship the "Swift" with 16 families. Joist Hite's sons and grandsons were in Rev. war.

Joist and three others were granted 140,000 acres on Linville Creek, Va., near Enos. Joist died 1760-1, Marie died 1736-8, their children, Mary, Elizabeth, Magdalin, John, Jacob, Isaac born 1723, Abram born 1729, Joseph and Hannah. BOONE-MAYFIELD NATURAL BRIDGE

George Boone III, Geo. IV, son William, married Sarah Lincoln sister of John, ancestor of President Lincoln, William's brother Josiah, Sr., son Jeremiah, daughter Charlotte married Reuben Mayfield, vet. 1812, John's son, at Somerset, Ky., Oct. 27, 1814. Son Nevel was given the land where the Natural Bridge is located. His daughter Mary Ferguson owns it at the present time. A trail is over the bridge but no road has ever been built which would save a long detour to get to the old Boone Home.

More than 80 years ago Reuben Mayfield gave a site for a school on top of the bridge so the pupils would not have to cross the creek.

James Neville's, Rev. war, daughter Joyce Neville married Jeremiah Boone, Rev. war 1787, Stanford, Ky. Gen. John of Va., was James Neville's brother who was with Col. Boone, Gen. Benj. Logan and Gen. G. R. Clark, all in Rev. war. Eleven Mayfields in the Rev. war. Col. John Tate, Rev. war, of Russell Co., Va., died 1828. All of his children migrated to Ky. except JOSEPH. Robert's daughter Mary married Milton Short, son of Wesley, son of John born 1756 Tigart Valley, W. Va., Rev. war, buried at Cem. No. 5. Milton's daughter Winnie married Alex. C. Mayfield, my father, Jan. 12, 1854, children: Ila born at J. A., Mary Charlotte, No. 6, Reuben Newton, No. 7, Wesly Short and Inda born at Springville.

No. 2 is the old Bridge Church. No. 3, where the creek runs under Buggers Point and forms the Dry Ford at No. 4. No. 6 is where lived John Short, Reuben, Alex. C. and Nevel Mayfield and Homer Ferguson. No. 7 where Wesly Short lived, here Owen was born. W. B. Bailey's son Ralph was born here. The white house was carried away by the McKinley Flood.

All of my ancestors had an English Coat-of-Arms. Solomon Boone recorded the Boone Arms in the records of Bristol, Pa., 1690. The Mayfield Coat-of-Arms was granted to Owen Mayfield, Mayor and Alderman of Cambridge, England, 1684. John and Robert Tate had been Lord Mayors of London in early days.

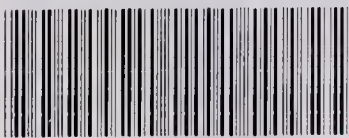

The Boones, the Shorts and de Nevilles, Fr., were followers of William the Conqueror. George Boone III. was Josiah, Sr. and Daniel Boone's grandfather. A short history of my ancestors I filed in Congress Library, 1901. In 1931-2-3, I wrote fifty chapters for Mt. Branch Vet. on the Life of Daniel Boone, all on file in Astor and Congress Libraries.

In 1934 I had made ten dozen portraits of Daniel Boone taken from the only life painting ever made of him. They were placed in all the large libraries of the country and in all the libraries along the Wilderness Road.
